Low-site leaves have about 22% lower unregulated yield at high light